I must have freedom — to choose,
to reach out,
to grow.

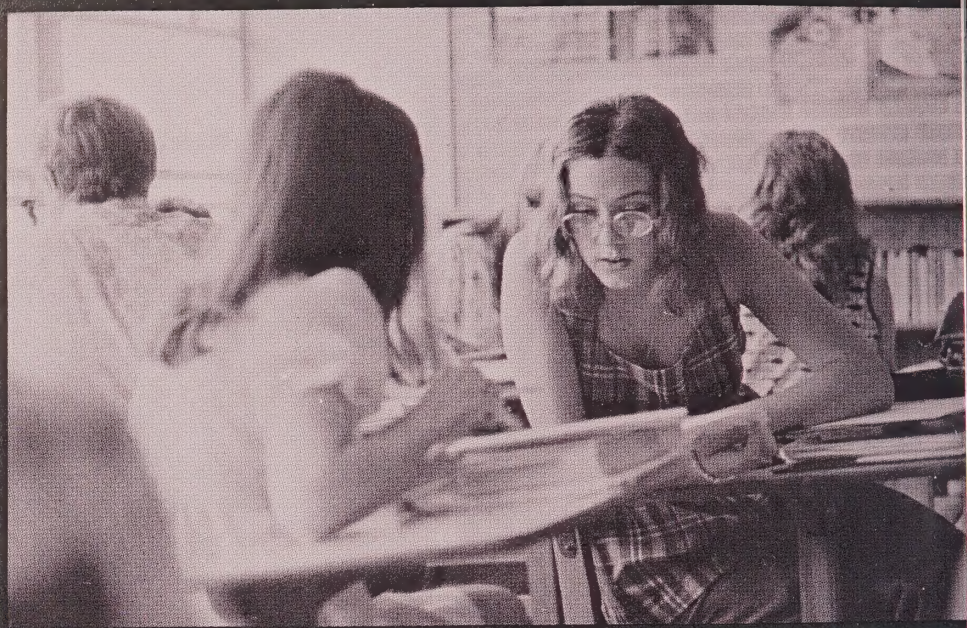

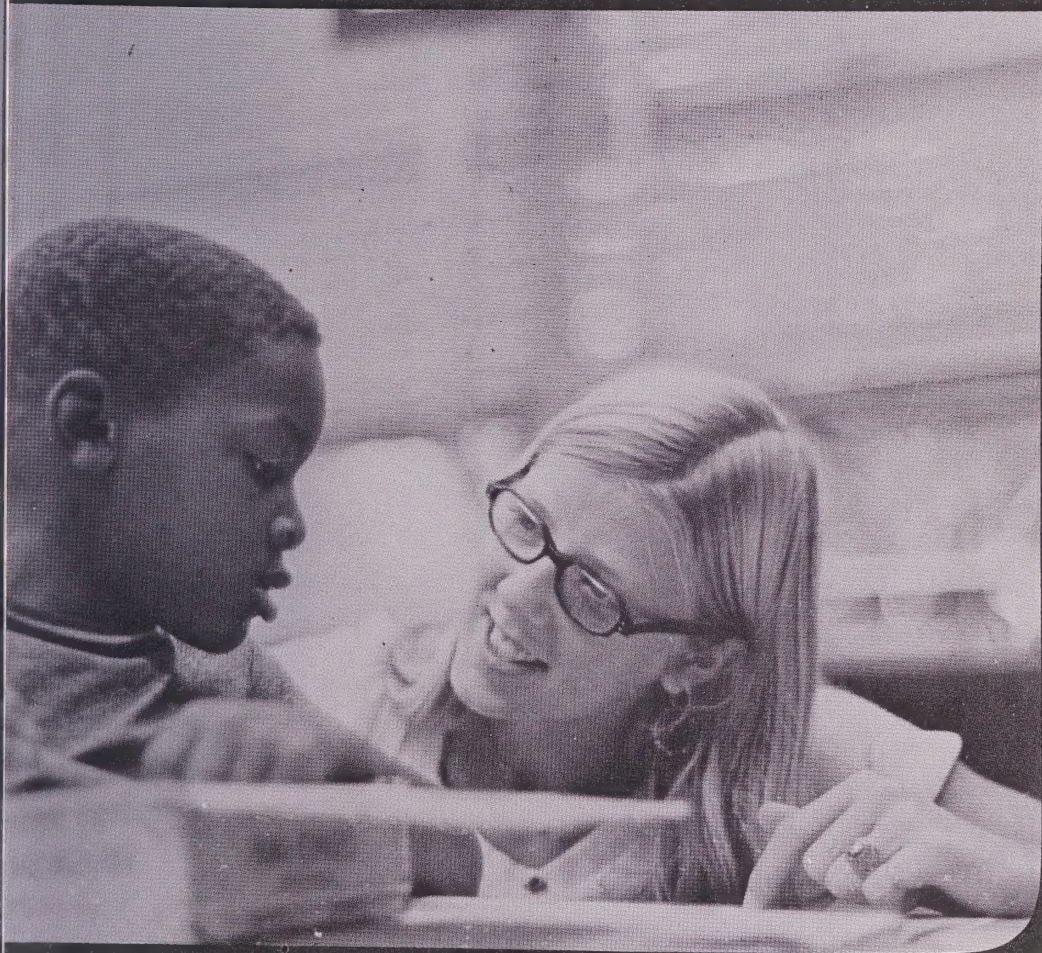

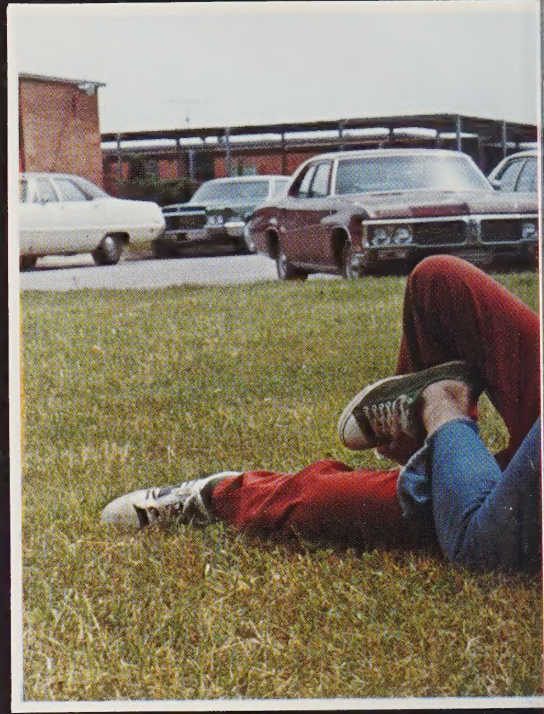

I must live —
not merely exist.

I must strive — to cope with a world
whose resources, beauty, confusion, and troubles
will someday be mine.

I must adapt — and conform to a modern society,
In which rules are made to be followed,
not broken.

I must dream — in order to find an inner peace.

I MUST be myself —
an individual,
one unique being in a sea of faces.

EHHS Acquires New Sophomores

After the excitement of a summer of Water-gate and the beginning of a serious energy shortage, reluctant students found it again time to return to the routine of school. New faces became a part of East this year as Mr. McIntyre, Mr. Morrow and Mr. Phillips joined the staff, and a whole new class of sophomores enrolled. The seniors exercised their traditional superiority over the puzzled sophomores, but soon an air of caring spread through the school as students formed new friendships and renewed old ones. Spirit soared as the Eagles had their best football season ever, and a feeling of a unity prevailed throughout the year.

Council In State's Top Ten

"Involvement," best described the Student Council of East Henderson High. Working on Homecoming, school elections, soc-hops, caroling and assemblies kept the council busy. Led by advisors Mrs. Carolyn Hawkins and Mrs. Gwen Oechslin, Student Council was recognized as an honor council by The North Carolina Association of Student Councils. They participated in local, state and national district division organizations of Student Council. This year they hosted the Division II Workshop on October 2. Student councils from six different counties participated in the workshop.

Student Body Officers are: Donna Garren, treasurer; Mrs. Hawkins, advisor; Linda Freeman, president; Alan Driskell, vice-president; Mrs. Oechslin, advisor; Laura Cornelius, secretary.

Student Council members are,
FIRST ROW: Billie Nix, Marian Mullinax, Alan Driskell, Barbara Beddingfield, Steve Woody, Karen Bayne, Debbie Freeman, Lloyd Pace, Mickey Moreno, Butch Sexton, Lynn Grasty, David Arrowood, Mark Moreno;
SECOND ROW: Kathy Freeman, Donna Garren, Tinker Saltz, Susan Killian, Kathy Russell, Rosanne Mackey, Melinda Waggoner;

Interclub Sponsors Bulletin Board Contest

Inter-Club Council, under advisor Mrs. Gwen Oechslin, consisted of the student council vice-president, Alan Driskell, as chairman, and of the presidents of each club and class. They met to coordinate the activities that were to be fulfilled throughout the year. Examples of their projects were sponsorship of a school-wide paper drive and of the Thanksgiving and Christmas bulletin board contests.

"Saturday in the Park"

As the Junior-Senior approached, many weeks of planning and hard work filled the schedules of the juniors. A fountain, park benches, and carnations set the mood for this eventful night. After a hectic day of beauty parlor appointments and car washings, the spell of the Junior-Senior enveloped the air. Couples danced until midnight in an atmosphere of enchantment on this "Saturday in the Park."

Kathy Russell Reigns

On September 20, twenty girls were presented to the student body of East Henderson High. Each anticipated representing her class on the Homecoming court. Finally, the long awaited night arrived. During the half time activities the audience got one last look at the nominees, not knowing which girl held the crown. Tension grew and the air filled with expectancy. At last came the announcement "And the queen for 1973 — Kathy Russell."

"Harvey"

Under the direction of Miss Joyce Loftin, twelve talented students presented the '73 spring production. They chose a comical adaptation of Mary Chase's HARVEY. Drew Johnston played the part of Elwood P. Dowd, a zany character who befriended an invisible six-foot rabbit named Harvey. His society-minded sister, Veta Louise (Vanessa Drake), found herself being constantly humiliated by Elwood and his rabbit. No one wanted to marry Veta's daughter (Diane Dixon), the niece of a nutty uncle who always talked to an invisible rabbit. To solve this problem, Veta tried to have Elwood admitted to a mental institution. This plan backfired, however, when the young, inexperienced Dr. Sanderson (Terry Lowe) admitted Veta Louise instead.

"Through the Eyes of a Child"

Last year's Springnastics program, "Through the Eyes of a Child", demonstrated the talent of East High's gymnastics team through the dreams of a lonesome little girl confined to a hospital bed. Accompanied by two clowns, Debbie Dorsey and Rick Grasty, the little girl, Pam Hill, watched as storybook characters came to life. Through short scenes depicting Mickey Mouse, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Mary Poppins, and the Jungle Book, many months of hard work, patience and planning became evident.

Sales Net Big Profit

Sophomores quickly learned what being a special part of East meant when magazine sales started. Classes challenged each other as the entire school worked for soc-hops; free periods, extra lunch time, a student-teacher volleyball game, and a movie at the end of the sales.

In February, neighbors and friends stocked up on chocolate or gained ten pounds when NHS sponsored the chocolate sales.

TOP: Allen Hamlin, one of Mrs. Barnwell's helpers, counts up the money after magazine sales end for the day.

Expensive Prizes Given

In February each year the National Honor Society sponsors a chocolate sale to raise money for school projects. This year the money was used to build a roof over the smoking area and to pour a concrete floor. NHS members collected money each collection day and distributed the chocolate to each homeroom.

Prizes for high salesmen were given each day and drawings for prizes were held at the end of the sales.

McKuen Visits East

On March 22, 1973, East High was numb with excitement, for that marked a day of history in the making. Numerous comments such as "I can't believe it!" were heard, and yet it was happening — to us! VIP's gathered from all over town. Schedules, plans, and procedure were tight and strict. Then it happened! The long awaited moment arrived!

The curtain peeled back — Rod McKuen walked on stage. Dressed in blue jeans, plaid flannel shirt, and battered black tennis shoes, he dispelled the tension of the audience and everyone warmed to the tremendous talent and simplicity of this polished professional.

To think that one of the best known contemporary poets, with his hectic schedule, took time for East Henderson High! Why? Because he cared — cared for one of his personal friends, Jeff Hefner. In a special memorial service, McKuen began with his tribute to Jeff, "Three Paragraphs for Jeff Hefner," followed by a true account of how the two became friends. For the next hour the artist read some of his favorite poems which Jeff, and the countless people who read his work, immensely enjoy.

The rap session that followed gave insight into this poet-author-composer. A reception followed the assembly, and before any time passed at all, he was gone.

The memory of what took place that day will remain in our minds for a lifetime. Dazed at his coming, sad at his leaving, we remembered his stressing this one thought: "People are just people, and success shouldn't change that. They still need others, and they should care what happens to other people."

By setting up a scholarship fund of "continuing care," the "Jeff Hefner — Rod McKuen Award," he proved that there are people who profoundly care about others. Rod McKuen cares. We care.

Insight Breaks Routine

Since 1970 tradition has marked East with student involvement days. Called "Insight," this day last year enabled students to sign up for classes of their choice from a wide variety which included: FBI, acupuncture, Merle Norman Cosmetics, archery, karate, golf, scuba diving, photography, and movie criticism. Experts in many fields came to East to share their thoughts, talents and skills. Field trips also gave new "Insight" to students as they explored Biltmore House and Linville Caverns. A picnic lunch and a rock concert in Davis Circle provided a change of pace during an hour break. Arranged by Mrs. Nickell, Mrs. Hawkins, and Student Council, the day went smoothly and all too quickly.

Girls Prevail

Dressing up in "best clothes", running three legged races, participating in a prettiest legs contest, and crowning a gorgeous queen were among the joys of Sadie Hawkins' Day '73. This day marked down-to-earth fun as the three classes competed against each other in unusual contests. Sadie Hawkins' Day also turned the tables on the boys as girls escorted their dates to the last soc-hop of the season.

B.S., M.S., Western Carolina University; Assistant Principal; Beginning Gymnastics; Advanced Gymnastics; Athletic Director; Football; J. V. Basketball.

Office Encounters Problems

Dr. Ledbetter, Mr. Williams, Mr. Ford and Mrs. Williams all had their share of frustrations during the year. In addition to his administrative duties, Dr. Ledbetter taught a course in psychology, counseled students, met with parents, observed classes, coped with bus and cafeteria problems, and provided a sympathetic ear to some thirty staff members.

Mr. Williams, in his first official year as assistant principal, dealt with numerous discipline problems and became a hunter himself when he tracked down "sick" squirrel and deer hunters.

Mr. Ford experienced another year of being constantly busy administering aptitude tests, guiding students in the selection of jobs and schools, providing college transcripts, and keeping permanent records up to date and accurate.

Mrs. Williams answered phones, wrote admission slips, kept detailed accounts of school finances, handled school correspondence and made many announcements.

MRS. KAY WILLIAMS

B.S., Western Carolina University; Secretary.

MR. ROBERT FORD

B.A., M. Ed., Furman University; Guidance Counselor.

Non-Teachers Serve School

Among the individuals who provided service to East High were the cafeteria staff, the janitor, and Kenny Walker. These non-teaching personnel contributed to the lives of both students and faculty.

The lunchroom ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Justus, prepared nutritious lunches for the school during a year when food was hard to obtain.

Mr. Williams, the janitor, took personal pride in maintaining the cleanliness of the rooms and in making repairs that added to the efficiency of the school. Kenny Walker assisted in school maintenance during the afternoons. In addition, he filmed football games, ran the clock during basketball games, and performed various functions at track meets. In many ways, as in the past, he proved himself a friend of East High.

Floats Interest Students

Float courses provided a change in the daily routine by offering new things to do and make. Students showed their interest in certain courses by enrolling in them more than once. Chess, volleyball, archery, golf, bowling, macrame, needlepoint, woodworking and numerous other courses broke the monotony of classwork by providing physical activity. Float period also provided a time for assemblies, class meetings, and other irregular occurrences.

Movies and Mini-courses

English classes were enlivened this year by the addition of new mini-courses to the senior curriculum and of new materials to the underclass courses. Seniors switched classes each quarter with courses varying from Vocabulary, Composition, Research, Short Stories, and Business English to Independent Reading, Sport Stories, Print, Sight and Sound, and Who Am I. Underclassmen spent much time mastering the fundamentals of writing and delving into new paperbacks.

They also enjoyed traveling to the Carolina Theater to view movies such as WUTHERING HEIGHTS, A SEPARATE PEACE, and JULIUS CAESAR.

MRS. JULIA LAPPIN

Staff Incorporates New Techniques

The 1974 HIGHLANDER staff, consisting of approximately 20 members, worked hard during the summer and school year trying to produce a successful yearbook.

The staff incorporated artwork, color and special effects to increase the effectiveness of the book. During May they distributed the books to the students who devoted an afternoon to signing them. Students looked forward to annual day and ranked it as one of the more memorable days of the school year.

ECHO Increases Production

With new writers and a larger staff, the newspaper covered more subjects and canvassed a greater number of people for news this year. Some of the topics included sports, editorials, general news, and special columns such as Senior Corner, Eagle's Nest, Dear Gertrude, and the horoscopes.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lanier and editor, Pat Dodge, the ECHO staff kept the student body well informed with several editions of the paper.

Library Sponsors Bazaar

Mrs. Hysong's services again proved invaluable to students and teachers alike. Not only did she provide orientation sessions for all sophomores and help countless students in locating information for reports and term papers, but she also funneled new material to teachers for use in their classes.

In addition, she taught a course in library science, coordinated the Christmas bazaar, and provided guidance for a student teacher, Barbara Jean Thompson.

MRS. EDITH HYSONG
A.B., Michigan State University; Librarian.

Latin Eliminated

Mrs. Crawford taught her students the basic elements of the French language and a knowledge of the country. Student use of headphones to learn correct pronunciation still presented itself as an essential part of French I and II. As a result of Mrs. Rogers' leaving, students lost the privilege of learning the dead language and the development of other languages from it. After the loss of Latin I and II, Caesar's Gallic Wars may never be heard of around EHHS again.

Department Head; AFS advisor.

MR. ROY CARTER

B.S., East Tennessee State University; Contemporary American Studies; Physical Science; Biology; Football; Track; FCA advisor.

Social Studies Competes in Simulation Games

Social Studies aroused more interest than in previous years through a new game called Current Events Sweepstakes. The game served to help students learn about world problems.

Also creating excitement in some classes were the simulation games conducted by students from UNC-A. Several students from East attended UNC-A in December to participate with nine other schools in these games. They rated among the top three schools in the competition.

Department Enters Math Competition

The math department made plans to send students to Western Carolina University for a math contest. The divisions of the contest included: Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry and comprehensive. The winner of the comprehensive division received a scholarship to the university at Cullowhee.

In the department, Mr. Jarvis taught the Pythagorean Theorem and other phases of geometry, while Mr. Hysong taught Algebra II and advanced math. Multi-talented Mrs. Hawkins not only taught two classes of consumer math, but also one of family living and one of typing.

The science department incited the usual opposition from sophomores when the time arrived to dissect pigs. More fun resulted for some students in the chemistry classes in which they learned about chemical compounds.

Students also experimented in labs and attempted to confirm their hypotheses. Those interested in science had the opportunity to study physics and advanced biology.

Business Department Simulates Bank

The business department taught students to accept responsibilities in preparation for the future by simulating a bank and a corporation. Each student held a position of responsibility in his department. When someone made a mistake it disrupted the entire system, thus emphasizing a need for unity. The department also served others by typing and mimeographing materials for teachers and students.

Band Buys New Uniforms

After weeks of summer practice, the band's big moment arrived — the first half-time performance. Dressed in new uniforms, this precision marching group added excitement and spirit to the games.

In September, the group attended a preliminary contest at Forest City and brought home the second place trophy. Through an exciting journey to Cleveland, Tennessee, the band also proved its superiority by earning a Division I rating at the Tri-State Marching Festival.

Students Display Talent

Art students strived to bring forth their unknown skills and displayed their talent in an art exhibition. The students also contributed to the Christmas bazaar and sold art projects.

The profits from selling mobils, cloth and burlap flowers, Christmas cards and ceramic medallions went for new equipment to improve the department.

Students Produce Album

The Chorus sang in the Christmas assembly and concert again this year according to tradition. They also traveled to other schools and presented programs there. Four students; Gloria Waters, Angela Mull, Debbie Sosebee, and Robbie Kievit; were selected through competition to attend the Mars Hill Choral Clinic. These students produced an album slated for release in the future.

P.E. Varies Activities

The physical education department provided constant activity as students participated in tumbling, volleyball, weightlifting, softball, football, ping pong and tennis. Gymnastics students worked hard all year preparing for Springnastics and were aided by the addition to the gymnastic equipment of a horse mover and spring board.

Agriculture Classes Attend Cattle Sale

To develop courage, leadership and responsibility in adult life was one of the main goals in agricultural courses this year.

Students examined the basics of farming, horticulture and other related subjects. Several students attended a cattle sale and learned first hand how cattle are bought and sold. Students also gained experience in using shop tools and familiarized themselves with the fundamentals of mechanics.

Boys Take Home Ec.

A modernized curriculum enabled the home economics department to meet the needs of many students during the year. Courses offered were Home Economics II, Family Living, Boys' Home Economics and quarter courses in foods and individualized sewing.

Much emphasis was placed on child care, the fundamental skills of cooking and sewing, and on family relationships.

Driver's Ed. Students Wary of Danger

Beginning drivers found driver education a little more hazardous than they first thought. Potential dangers included trees, other cars, and bridges. The students avoided these pitfalls, however, and under the direction of Mr. Scott and Mr. Carter, became courteous, qualified drivers.

NHS Inducts 36

The traditional NHS assembly held November 22, inducted 36 new members. The requirements include an academic average of 87 or above, good character, and approval by the faculty. These students will participate in preparing food baskets for the needy at Christmas and in coordinating the school chocolate sales.

NHS members are, first row: Cindy Thompson, Dayle Weaver, Neicee Stepp, Donna Garren; second row: Linda Freeman, Pam Hill, Kathy Cairens, Angela Mull, Janet Thompson, Vera McGraw, Pat Dodge, Donna Reese, Pat Jones, Diana Cook, Julia Sanz, Joyce Brown, Rosemary Heatherly, Linda Rhodes; third row: Robert Park, Roberta Efferth, Myra Skidds, Cindy Newell, Sheila Sprouse, Will Andrews, Diana Soileau, Sandy Wallace, Sharon Hill, Kathy Staton, Dale Nichols, Debbie Beddingfield, Penny Suttles, Debbie Corbett; fourth row: Kathy Kronenfeld, Debbie Mashburn, Liz Howe, Tommy Taylor, Glenn Gilliam, Glenda Jones, Toni Gilliam, Linda Ballard, Shirley Guice, Sharon Thompson, Nancy Head, Debbie Connor; fifth row: Mike Jones, James Weaver, Myron Redden, Richard Scoltock, Greg Justus, Mike Harris, Becky Jackson, Susan Killian, Laura Corneilius, Karen Bayne; sixth row: Ricky Corn, Alan Hamlin, Norman Sams, Rick Buttner, Jackie Johnson, Donnie Carpenter, Bill Allman.

Interact Club, sponsored by Rotary International, has a three-fold purpose: service to school, community, and world. This year, led by Cindy Thompson, the members involved themselves in many worthwhile projects. They corresponded with a foreign country, made Thanksgiving tray cards for the hospital, gave a Halloween party for WNC Community Action Child Care, manned a concession stand at the Fabulous Fourth, and sold dogwood trees.

TOP: Members are, first row: Debbie Mashburn, Sharon Stepp, Diana Soileau, Alan Driskell, Neicee Stepp, Donna Garren, Joyce Staton, Norman Sams, Joyce Shuford, Lisa Perron, Kip Hunnicutt, Lorraine Roper, Diana Cook; second row: Jenny Thompson, Cindy Newell, Tommy Young, Greg Hunnicutt, Donna Reese, Donnie Carpenter, Julia Sanz, Stanley Hawkins, David Stepp, Susan Killian, Eric Cheadle, Kathy Freeman, Sam Nuckolls, Mackey Hughes, and Cindy Thompson. Keyettes Help Salvation Army

The Keyettes of East Henderson High actively served their school and community. Among regular activities, seasonal projects included a canned food drive at Thanksgiving; favors for teachers, ringing bells for the Salvation Army, and visiting rest homes at Christmas; favors for the hospital on Valentines Day; and working with children at Pumpkin Shell at Easter.

Keyette members are, first row: Karen Wagoner, Debbie Brooks, Dayle Weaver; second row: Suprina McCullough, Martha Sinclair, Kathy Cairens, Janet Thompson, Joan Huggins, Rosanne Mackey, Joy Justus, Melinda Waggoner, Pam Hill; third row: Patti Rogers, Kay Blackwell, Sharon Goins, Rita McCrary, Janice Clapp, Debbie Warren, Myra Walker, Lynn Grasty, Mrs. Barnwell, Sandy Wallace, Diana Soileau, Becky Jackson.

Officers are: Rita McCrary, secretary-treasurer; Pam Hill, vice-president; Melinda Waggoner, president; Mrs. Barnwell, advisor.

Key Club Serves School

The Key Club, under a new advisor, Mr. McIntyre, served the school, community, and church by cleaning up the parking lots, surveying the buildings for fire hazards, helping Inter-Club council decorate the Christmas tree, and by selling spirit links for the children at the Shriner's Hospital.

TOP: Officers of the Key Club are: Bill Berger, treasurer; Tommy Taylor, vice-president; Mr. McIntyre, advisor; Rick Buttner, secretary; Steve Woody, president.

DECA Attends Convention

The Distributive Education Club obtained a new sponsor in October when Mr. Larry Phillips replaced Claude Adkins. Under his leadership the D.E. students participated in a district DECA convention at Tuscola. In class they studied salesmanship, advertising, sales promotions and retail math. Throughout the year the club members demonstrated the ability to get along with people, an essential to salesmanship. They also helped in the development of respect for education in the areas of marketing and distribution.

FHA Active

Sparked by the leadership of president Vera McGraw, loyal FHA members stayed after school to attend meetings, enjoy refreshments and craft programs. Traditional projects for the year included Tom-Watt sales, parties for veterans at Oteen, and a district rally. New club projects featured ringing bells for the Salvation Army at Christmas and Operation Santa Claus. FHA closed the year with the state convention and the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet.

FCA Leads Prayer

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes consisted not only of athletes, but also of coaches and youths who joined together to help each other become better examples of Christian conduct.

The organization also provided members an opportunity to serve their school. This year members took turns at having the prayer at every home athletic event.

Tri-Hi-Y Serves Community

Members of Tri-Hi-Y, under the leadership of president Carmen Duncan, did much for the school and community. They made Christmas tray cards for Pardee Hospital, rang bells for the Salvation Army, gave a party for the children at the Asheville Orthopedic Hospital, coordinated a school-wide clean up, and made a Homecoming display. They held meetings at school, and, once a month, at the Hendersonville YMCA, after which they had recreation involving volleyball, basketball, or the trampoline.

Bible Club Gains Sponsor

The Bible Club, under a new sponsor, Mrs. Nicholson, added a different dimension to their program this year by joining the Bible Club Movement, a national religious association. At Christmas, members went to the community rest homes and put on a seasonal program.

The goals of the club are to study the Bible and why it was written, to become better Christians, and to be examples at East High of what God can do.

Art Club Exhibits Crafts

This year the Art Club prepared crafts as a money making project. The money from the sales went to buy new equipment for the art department. The club also participated in the Christmas bazaar. Decoupage pottery, and hand-printed Christmas cards were among the crafts exhibited.

UNC-A Workshop Enriches Talents

Drama Club, led by the energetic sponsor, Miss Joyce Loftin, and club officers, spurred interest in drama, theater, stage production and other forms of the arts. This year seven drama members attended a workshop titled "Drama, a Mirror of Man," which was given at UNC-A. The students attending were Henry Simmons, Margaret Ward, Robbie Kievit, Vanessa Drake, Debbie King, David Stepp and Richard Scoltock. These students signed up for a variety of classes which included Pantomime, with artists Jack Hill and Gracielia Binaghi; Make-up, with Bob Kelly; Classroom Drama Techniques, with Jane Warfforce; and Lighting and Projected Scenery, with Paul J. Sweeney. Mr. Hugh Webb spoke to the club on moods of drama. The club also made masks for the Hendersonville Children's Theater for the production of "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe."

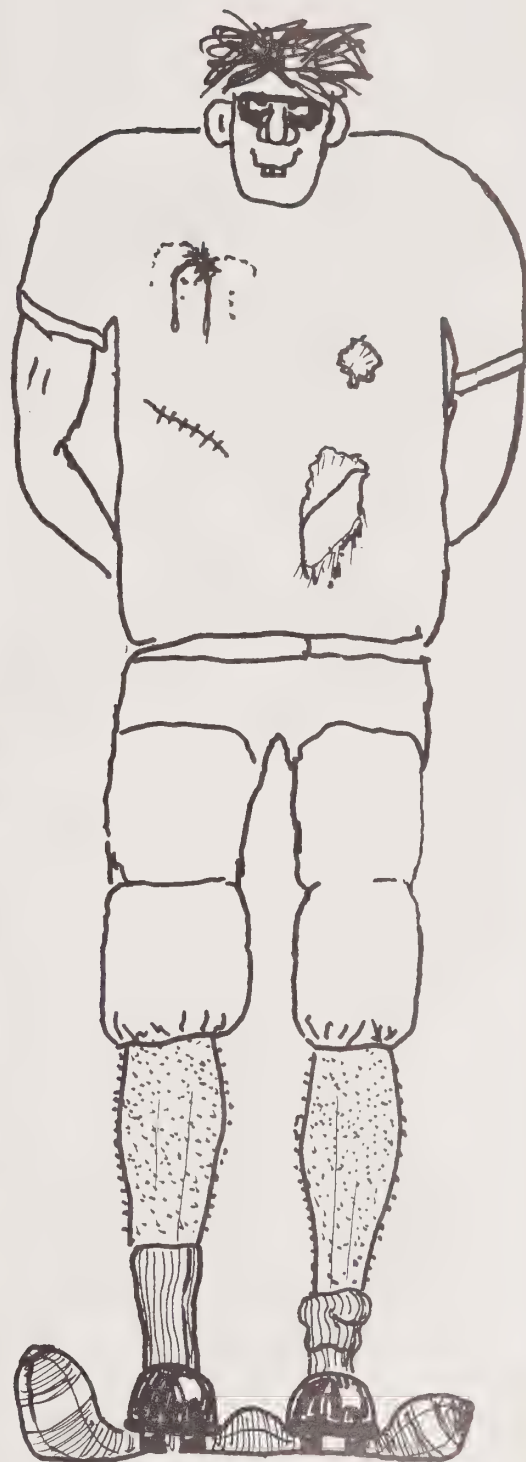

Coach Hugh Hamilton's second year as head coach of the football team showed improvement with an impressive season of seven wins, two losses, and one tie. The only marks that kept the Eagle record unblemished were the two defeats by conference foes, Brevard and Tuscola, while the Eagles fought Hendersonville to a 0-0 tie. The varsity team traditionally had been beaten by Hendersonville in the past. The Eagle offense averaged 21.1 points per game while the defense gave up only 6.3 points to their opponents.

The Eagles ranked from fourth to eighth in WNC football this year, while T.C. Roberson held the No. 1 position. On October 12, 1973, the Eagles journeyed to T.C. for a hard hitting ball game.

Both teams began by playing defensive ball. Roberson scored in the first quarter. The score stood at 7-0. The Eagles then fought back hard. Billy Hamilton scored six, but the conversion failed. The score then stood 7-6. During the fourth quarter in a punting situation, the Ram center made a high snap that sailed out of the reach of the punter and out of the end zone. The officials ruled it as a safety. The score remained 8-7 for the rest of the game, and the Eagles walked away with an important victory.

Track Team Captures Conference Crown

The 1973 East High track team had probably its best year ever. It was the first year the school nailed down the Conference and County championships together.

The season started slow, with injuries hampering the thinclads a great deal, but everyone fought back hard for a peak performance in the conference meet and followed the next week with a county championship win.

This was Coach Carter's first year at East and the most satisfying he has ever had in coaching. He indicated that he is looking to the future with excitement and great expectations.

Varsity Team Gives 100%

The 1973-'74 basketball team began a season with a new coach, two returning starters, and the loss of the first four games. Their new coach, Mr. Dan McIntyre, as well as the whole team, did not let these losses lessen their enthusiasm. They showed spirit, gave 100% hustle and demonstrated good sportsmanship in compiling a 6-15 record.

Seniors and Juniors Compose Team

The two returning starters, Mike "Big Dukey" O'Connor and Harold Cox, teamed up with senior Eddie Johnson and juniors Wayne Henry and Jackie Johnson to make up the starting five.

Later in the year, Coach McIntyre placed James Weaver and Myron Redden in the starting line-up trying to find a winning combination.

Because of an ankle injury sustained by Mike O'Connor in the early minutes of the game against Brevard, Bill Walker played the remainder of that game, starting at the center position.

Pressley and Grindle Lead Eagles

The Lady Eagles underwent a rough season. They lost each game by an average of 2.1 points per contest, 41.4 to 43.5.

Cheryl Grindle led the team with a 14.7 points per game average, while Mary Pressley scored 10.2.

In the County Tournament, the Lady Eagles led Edneyville until the closing minutes of the fourth quarter. During this time, a rash of fouls plagued the team. The final score stood at 41 to 33 in favor of the Yellow Jackets.

The team, losing only three seniors, will look forward to a better season next year.

JV's Disappointed

The 1973-'74 J.V. basketball team, coached by Mr. Tom Williams, suffered a disappointing season. Although their record, 1-21, indicates a losing streak, the boys played well and showed good sportsmanship. The starting line-up included Bruce Jones, Butch Sexton, Al Hill, Chris Hamilton and Bobby McGraw. These boys gained valuable experience during the season.

Cheerleaders

The junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders maintained school spirit and displayed it in every interscholastic contest. They bolstered athletic morale and spirit through pep rallies and cheering on the playing fields, courts, and every other place the teams could be found.

Baseball Team Finishes 3-11

The 1973 Eagles suffered a discouraging season, defeating West twice and Tuscola once. They finished with a 3 to 11 record for the year.

The boys were young and inexperienced, but this did not dampen their spirit. They hustled 100 % in every game.

The 1973 Golf Team had a good season this year. Featuring such outstanding players as Dirk Blythe, they came in second and third at Crooked Creek; second at Etowah Valley and third at Tryon Golf Club. This was all due to a good team effort and a willingness to play. Dirk Blythe was the lowest average score in Western North Carolina.

Wrestling

The 1974 wrestling team had five grapplers returning for them this year along with the aid of Coach Scott, Mr. Jarvis, and Marvin. The returners were Maurice Bishop, Gary Cole, Rick Corn, and Benny Delozier, who placed third in the AAA Tournament at Tuscola High. These members strengthened the squad through experience and performance in competition.

Cross-Country Team Consistent

Coached by John Jarvis, the cross-country team displayed enthusiasm in each meet. Four members remained on the team from last year. These were James Weaver, Mike O'Connor, Tom O'Connor, and Greg Justus. David McGlashan and James Weaver were the most consistent runners, finishing in the top ten in most of the meets. Although they never grabbed a first place finish, the boys gave their opponents a "run for their money."

We Finally Made It!

The seniors of 1974 — each an individual, each unique in his own way. Underclassmen, with a wisp of envy, looked to these students who would soon be facing the unexplored dimensions of their lives. New senior privileges enriched the last year of high school for these special people. Seniors encountered a new challenge as Life knocked at the door. Hearing this sound, they hurried to meet it head on, "... Whispering words of wisdom / Let it be!"

As graduation neared, the Class of '74 realized that they must give up their coveted position. Being seniors had meant superiority, but, at the same time, it had entailed responsibility.

The realization that this was the last chance for achievement of their goals at East had spurred many seniors to work spiritedly so that their class might be remembered long after their departure into an adult world.

Involvement

This year the class of '76 displayed talent in many different fields of interest such as band, flag corps, majorettes, varsity cheerleading, chorus, clubs, and athletics.

The sophomore class representatives helped out in student council and took improvement ideas and complaints to student council.

Sophomores acquired new fields of interest and talent through float classes. Being new to the class of '76, floats provided confusion for the first few days, but sophomores soon overcame this and settled down for the year.

Accomplishment

With memories of the first few days of trying to "fit in" and the confusion of the new class schedules behind them, the sophomores successfully completed their first year at East. Two more years of high school to go, and then they face important decisions about their individual lives.

WHERE DO JOBS COME FROM?

A first-class fortune teller, very likely couldn't answer that question for you — how are jobs created? — as you go out into the world to seek your fortune. It's a subject fit for an entire course in economics.

But whether you'll be looking for a new job after school this year . . . or later, after additional education and training . . . we'd submit to you that basically, new jobs come from *profits!

The economist Peter Drucker, writing in Readers Digest has put it plainly:

"If we hope to succeed in creating new jobs for young people during the years just ahead, the country will have to find a great deal of new capital somewhere. This is particularly true of the jobs we will need the most — jobs for highly educated people The greater the skill or knowledge demanded by a job, the greater the capital investment needed to make it possible."

Make sense? Everyone knows that a computer operator can't work without a computer. And sophisticated computers can cost from hundreds of thousands of dollars to millions of dollars! By the same token, a doctor can't function effectively without a substantial investment in a nearby hospital . . . not to mention the costly equipment in his own office and in the labs on which he depends.

As Peter Drucker sums it up: we cannot hope to get new capital — the money that jobs are made from — by drawing on fat in the economy, or by "reducing excess profits*" as some suggest. "New capital" — to create and sustain jobs — "can come from only two sources: savings and profit."

*in the case of General Electric, profits average just about five cents on each sales dollar.

If you answered questions 16-A, 17-A and 18-A, go back and take the test over. If you answered questions 16-A, 17-A, and 18-B, repeat the test but do not answer any of the questions. If you checked 18-D, just hang it up.

I will discover — and share the real source of truth and love.

I will expand — and climb out of my secret hiding place to reach distant horizons.

I am on the way —
and when I reach
my journey's end,
I will be myself
Forever.
